

Companies are adopting Robotic Process Automation (RPA) technologies at unprecedented rates, bringing rapid acceleration to business processes, and the next great wave in workplace productivity.

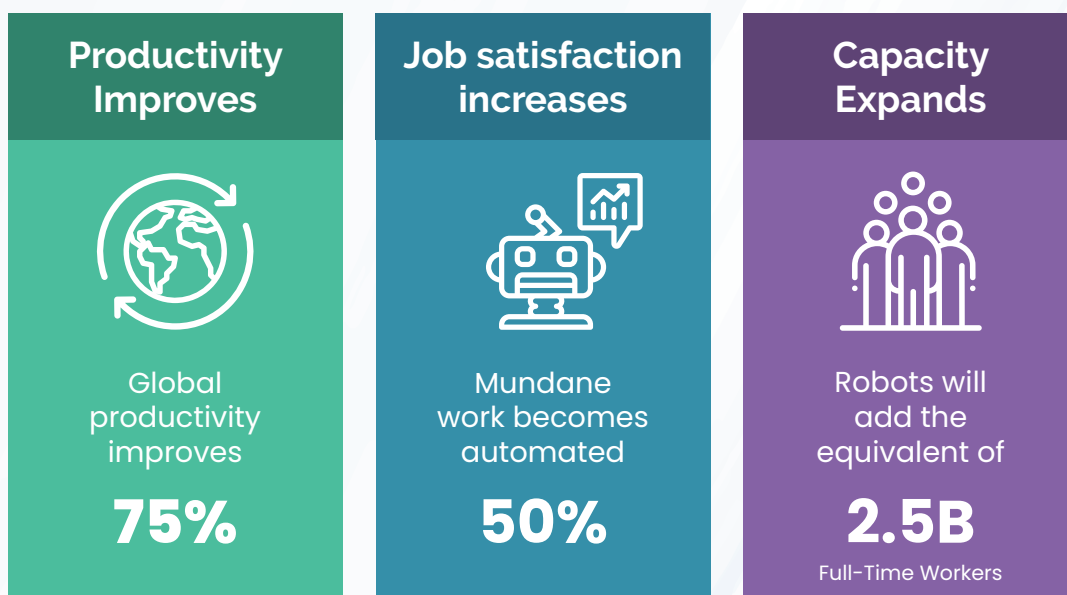

ATC partnered with the leader in the Robotic Process Automation (RPA) industry, UiPath, which is helping thousands of companies around the world automate their business processes with 100% accuracy.

ATC helps workforces become faster and more productive by accelerating high-volume repetitive processes with software robots.

RPA is Accelerating Global Business Growth

As Bill Gates once envisioned, "a computer on every desk", UiPath envisions a world where there's a software robot for every person, and thus, every repeatable process, business or personal, can get accelerated through automation.

*McKinsey: A Future That Works: Automation, Employment, And Productivity

Deloitte: Automation is here to stay

"RPA with UiPath was not a cost play. It was more around quality, speed of doing business, compliance. Really getting the benefits out of the workforce that we didn't and couldn't do before."

-Jairo Quiros
VP, Global Shared Services, Equifax

RPA is not just for large organizations. Almost any company can take advantage of the savings and productivity increases that RPA delivers. When you partner with ATC we will work closely with you to analyze the best processes to automate and explain the RPA opportunity. Most companies achieve their

UiPath Delivers the Fastest Time to Value on RPA Implementations

25,000
hours saved
annually

3 MILLION hours saved by end of 2018

56%
reduction in Client
Service Email
resolution time

We believe in starting small with a controlled POC (Proof of Concept) that will show you the value and capability of our robots, and from there we can then elevate the RPA program into its necessary strategic dimension. We also partner with you on the best practices for business planning and change management to insure a successful long-term RPA program.

"The UiPath platform has met NASA security requirements, worked well during implementation, and both technical and administrative people have been outstanding."

-Pameka J Wolfe
Chief, Enterprise Services
Division, NASA Shared
Services Center

ATC is a Gold Partner with UiPath and delivers unprecedented service and capabilities within the UiPath platform. We are dedicated professionals and experts that are leading the way within the RPA ecosystem. When you partner with ATC, you are getting a true partner that will work to meet the demands of your environment.

American Technology Consulting LLC

www.american-technology.net

12951 University Avenue, Suite 200, Clive, Iowa 50325

| Ph# +1-515-974-5619